SUDDEN DEATH.

JOE CHANDLER DIES FROM DISEASE CONTRACTED IN MANILA.

He Was On the Streets Yesterday Afternoon and Died Very Suddenly.

Joe Chandler, a well known young man of Oak Level, Marshall county, died last evening about 6 o'clock at Walker's boarding house, from chronic dysentery contracted during his service in the Philippines. He returned from Manila about two months ago, and had been in poor health ever since. He weighed 165 pounds when he enlisted and 195 when he returned. He was able to go down town yesterday afternoon, but at Lee's wagon yard, on South Third, became so weak that he had to be taken home in a carriage. He lived but a short time. The remains were taken from his boarding house, on Third near Adams, to Nance's undertaking establishment, and will be held until his relatives arrive.

He was about 30 years old and leaves a wife and one child in Marshall county, and three brothers and sisters. He was quite well known in the city, and everybody in Marshall county knew him.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL CARRIED OVER 30,000 PASSENGERS.

Railroad men of Memphis have figured out that a conservative estimate of the people taken into Memphis for the reunion was 125,580. It is certain that the Illinois Central carried over 30,000, which is the largest number handled by any road running into Memphis. The Southern came next with 24,000 and the L. & N. with 10,000.

LIFE TERM.

A TENNESSEE MAN SENTENCED AT UNION CITY.

Union City, June 1.—Junius Caldwell, a white man, was sentenced by a jury to the penitentiary for life for the killing of Odie McClure, in April 1899. McClure and Caldwell's son, Walter, had a difficulty the day preceding the murder. The next day, which was Sunday, the Caldwell's and McClure were at Dolph Nichol's, a neighbor. Without warning Junius Caldwell picked up a single tree and struck McClure on the head, inflicting injuries from which he died a few hours later. The murderer and his son went to Kentucky, then to Missouri and afterward to Arkansas, where Sheriff Finch located and had them arrested and brought here and lodged in jail. Walter Caldwell was acquitted. His father took an appeal to the supreme court.

Harry Dillon, a white man of family, was sentenced by a jury to fifteen years in the penitentiary for the attempted abduction of Miss Elsie Chester, a young lady of Rives. An appeal was taken.

RIVER MEN GLAD.

THEY SAY THE PONTOON BRIDGE WAS A NUISANCE.

Some river men profess to feel a degree of satisfaction over the damage to the Illinois Central pontoon bridge at Tennessee river, which was broken by the Dick Clyde day before yesterday.

The bridge is made of four boats and was supposed to be a protection in preventing boats from striking the piers. Instead of running parallel with the current, it is claimed by steamboatmen that it was at an angle of forty-five degrees, and very hard to contend with. The Clyde was damaged by the accident, but the damage to the railroad company will be light. The steamboat men express the hope that it will be put back right. The Victor is now up at work on it.

CAIRO MAN

DIES AT MEMPHIS FROM INJURIES RECEIVED ON A RAILROAD.

Memphis, Tenn., June 1.—George Dross, 38 years old, a painter of Cairo, Ill., died at the city hospital last night from injuries received Wednesday on the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham railroad. Dross was trying to steal a ride when he met with the accident, being in the act of boarding a freight train which was then going out. His lower limbs were badly crushed. When he was picked up and sent to the city hospital it was clear to the physicians that he had only a bare chance to recover. Dross was perfectly conscious all the time. He told the surgeons that he was a painter and lived in Cairo, where he has a wife. He said that he came down south looking for work. Dross had no money or valuables on his person.

A HITCH.

IT MAY BE SOME TIME BEFORE GRAND RIVERS BOOM ARRIVES.

There is Too Much Litigation, It Is Said, to Permit a Clear Title or Lease.

There is a hitch in the Grand Rivers deal, high some of the papers have for some time past referred to as settled.

Messrs. Simmons, Harrison and Scott, the St. Louis capitalists, who were in the city yesterday on route home, reported that they had been unable to secure a satisfactory lease or title.

The situation is this. A few years ago, after the Grand Rivers company had abandoned operation of its plants, and the Grand Rivers "boom" burst, the company's agent sold a large quantity of timber.

When the purchasers began cutting it, the Grand Rivers company, which repudiated the action of its agent, Mr. Applegate, filed suit enjoining the purchasers from cutting any more timber, and stopped them. When the suit was finally settled, however, the courts decided against the Grand Rivers company in favor of the timber men, who then under the decision had cause of action against the company for damages, and are likely, and have threatened to file suit at any time. The capitalists do not desire to assume the property, it seems, with all these threatened suits, and the Grand Rivers company, it is understood, will not give a warranty deed, which would necessitate their making good out of their own pockets all damages that might be assessed in the contemplated damage suits. Thus the matter stands, and it is probable that before anything is ever done with the Grand Rivers property the litigation will all have to be settled, and compromises effected with these having grievances against the company.

IT LOOKED LIKE TROUBLE.

Lee Murray a ship carpenter met Alex Venters one of the men put on the street cars when the motormen were discharged a week ago near Second and Court yesterday afternoon and called him a "scab."

Venters it, seems, walked away and tried to avoid trouble and Murray, it appears, insisted. Venters finally jumped on him and gave him as good a beating as a man ever received, and it is claimed that when he had used his fists a while he then used a brick.

Murray's face was badly disfigured and both eyes were closed. Venters was arrested and gave bond. Murray was able to attend court this morning but the case was continued. His face presented indisputable evidence that there had been trouble. But Judge Sanders will have to decide who was to blame. Venters received one blow which slightly decorated his countenance.
